

“A Braccia Aperte” is an all-volunteer non-profit organization registered in the Regional Section of the Volunteer (Province of Milan, Decree of 03.30.2006n.406/2006

) whose only objective is to achieve social solidarity with direct, personal and free action of its members
. At present it counts more than 20 volunteers

The association carries out direct action to overcome hardship through actions such as:

- reception in the context of the family home and/or community centers and activation of support services for families with hospitalized children

- realization of a park for families in Cesano Boscone called " Parco della Vita"

- research and study of risk factors for both families or singles and resources to prevent and activate the local network

- The mutual help among families through forms of temporary accommodation, in particular reference to the needs of single women with children who need support to achieve autonomy

▪